Yield Uganda Investment Fund makes maiden investment in soy processing company

Date: Thursday, 29th March 2018

The Yield Uganda Investment Fund, set up with financing from the European Union and National Social Security Fund Uganda (NSSF) and managed by Pearl Capital Partners (PCP), has made its maiden investment in Uganda, committing Ushs 1.6 billion to Sesaco Ltd, a soy processing company. The investment aims at improving the company's production facilities while stabilising and preparing the business for a larger expansion and growth in the future. As part of Yield Fund package, Sesaco Ltd will enjoy benefits from Business Development Support to the technical and governance aspects of the business.

Sesaco Ltd. is a family-owned company located in Kyengera Town, near Kampala. It processes, packages and sells several high-protein soy products, including soy cup, soy maize and soy millet flours which have various nutritional benefits. NGOs and institutions which provide food to underprivileged and malnourished persons, including refugees, are part of Sesaco's major customer base. "We are excited to have Yield Fund first believe and then invest in our business. Their commitment to supporting the agribusiness sector in Uganda will be encouraging to many. We also look forward to an interesting relationship with the PCP team which has considerable experience investing in agribusinesses in the entire East African region" said Sesaco's founder and CEO, Mr. Charles Nsubuga.

The European Union Ambassador H.E. Attilio Pacifici expressed satisfaction with completion of the Fund's maiden investment. "The first investment of Yield Fund marks an important milestone. It is the result of continued efforts and commitment from the European Union to support the agribusiness sector by lowering the cost and risk of investment. In accessing long-term capital needed for the modernisation and expansion of their business, Sesaco is expected to create jobs and contribute to Uganda's economic growth", he said.

The International Fund for Agricultural Development (IFAD) is involved in the management of Yield Fund. Its Country Manager Alessandro Marini said "IFAD is pleased with this first investment of Yield Fund to Sesaco. The vision of the company to expand its network of smallholders and improving nutrition offering in the country is a journey that we are happy to support. IFAD is keen to support the local agro-SMEs, like Sesaco, who provide a positive impact proposition and clear linkages and markets to the smallholder farmers of Uganda".

Dr. Edward Isingoma Matsiko, PCP Partner responsible for the transaction said: "Sesaco is a story of hard work, commitment and passion. With this investment of Yield Fund, we believe the company will be able to modernise its operations and increase efficiency. The business has enormous growth potential: with increased production from farmers who will benefit economically from soy farming and better internal operations, Sesaco will deliver a greater product to the Ugandan consumer. We are delighted to spearhead the company's growth in this first phase of our investment."
